Pursuing Victory With Honorsm

Welcome to the CIF Championships! As you watch this education-based competition keep in mind the following excerpts from the CIF Mission Statement: "It's bigger than sports. The CIF provides students with the opportunity to belong, connect, and compete in education-based experiences." and "It is essential to have families and community supporters who display positive behavior which will allow our students to create their own experiences."

When you attended your last high school athletic event did you witness a crowd of spectators who were excited to be there and positively supported their team or did you see a group of people who constantly berated the officials, coaches, and even the student-athletes playing in the contest? While we hope it was the former, it is not surprising if it was the latter. And if that were the case, we can no longer sit back and observe that behavior without taking action. If we do, there is the real possibility that sometime in the near future there will no longer be enough officials for our students to play the game they love.

The CIF produced a public service announcement (PSA) that featured CIF student-athletes describing what they like about the support they receive from their families and communities but also the behaviors they wish would not occur at their games. One student-athlete described her experience which is incredibly disheartening as our mission is for our participants to feel exactly the opposite:

You're trying your best and you're putting yourself out there and you're on the court, doing what you love, and seeing and hearing people belligerently be mean to you is frustrating. It makes you not want to play anymore. It makes you just want to go on the sidelines and cry. It's not fun.

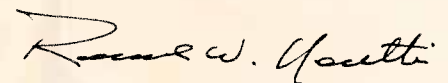

To that end, the CIF put out the following message in the same PSA:

How we behave at games is a reflection of who we are. Let's turn the tables on bad behavior and show friends, students, our kids, and the other team a side of ourselves that makes them truly proud. Sportsmanship is simple. It means treating other students, fans, and opponents as you'd like your school's players to be treated. It also means showing respect to our game officials. Without them, our student-athletes don't get to play the sport they love. Only then are we worthy of the title of CIF student-athletes, families, and coaches. So, let's get back to what we do best, California. Great competition and the best fans in the country. Thank you for being part of the change. And thank you for being there to lift us up.

We sincerely hope that you enjoy this exciting time of year when CIF member schools and student-athletes compete both regionally and statewide. As you enjoy these contests, please remember that the focus should be on our student-athletes and all that they have accomplished to get here. Please respect them, our coaches, and contest officials while cheering positively for your team. We appreciate your support of high school sports in California.

CORPORATE CHAMPIONS

Through the CIF Corporate Champion program, these companies provide a direct, positive impact on the opportunities afforded to more than 760,000 CIF student-athletes each year. These corporations are dedicated to emphasizing the role of athletics in interscholastic education by supporting CIF programs throughout the year. So, on behalf of the CIF and our student-athletes, we'd like to extend a big thank you to our Corporate Champions for being a vital part of the CIF family.
